

Dear Parents:

As part of the New Jersey Week of Respect (October 1st-October 5th), Joyce Kilmer Elementary School students will be learning about respecting themselves and others. In addition to daily classroom lessons focusing on anti-bullying and respect, the Week of Respect will include special dress up days. Please take the time to speak with your child about respecting themselves and others and help them dress appropriately each day during our Week of Respect.

Monday (10/1)-Stand up to Bullying-Wear Blue

Tuesday (10/2)-Team up against Bullying-Wear your favorite Team Sport or Team Jersey

Wednesday (10/3) - Appreciate the Differences in People -
Wear mismatched clothes to school

Thursday (10/4)-We are Crazy for Respect-Wear Crazy Socks

Friday (10/5) - Take pride in your School-Kilmer School Pride Day

Any questions, feel free to contact the school. Looking forward to a Great Week.

Sincerely,

Betsi McLeester
